2 Describe three pieces of secondary research you could do, and what each would tell you.

- Statistics/reports on online bullying: shows the size of the problem
- Case studies of existing kindness campaigns: what works and what doesn't
- Image research / mood board of campaign styles that appeal to teenagers

3 Quick check

- a) Interviewing a nurse about hospital waiting rooms

5 Write four research questions you would need to answer before generating ideas.

- Who uses the space and when? (users and times)
- What do pupils dislike or feel unsafe about now?
- What has been done elsewhere (case studies of bus shelters, waiting areas)?
- What are the constraints: budget, space, council rules, weather?

6 Plan two methods of primary research and explain why each suits this brief.

- Interview nurses or parents (open questions): learn what upsets children and what helps
- Observe children waiting (with permission): see real behaviour rather than what people say
- Survey children/parents about colours, activities, seating
- Each method linked to a reason for this brief
